The Prohibitionists, with Emmerke in the box, put up a much better game than on Saturday. Nichols, for the Omahas, was hit freely but was effective at critical American Association. New York, May 5.—The largest assemblage of people who ever witnessed a game of base ball at Ridgewood park went to-day to see the Brooklyn and Athletic game. The crowd in center field was so dense that many of the spectators could not even see the players. Brooklyn scored a run in the first inning and the Athletics in the third. The score remained tied until the sixth inning. when the visiting players scored four runs. As Foutz went to bat the crowd in center As Foutz went to but the crowd in center field began to close in, and all attempts to keep it back failed. In a few minutes the whole field was a sea of humanity. No further efforts were made to clear the field or continue the game. It is doubtful if there would have been any trouble if the home team had lead. The umpire called the game a draw and left the field. President Byrne, of the Brooklyn club, said he would bring the whole matter up before the next meeting of the American association. He claims that the Athletic fielders incited the trouble.

NEW YORK BREATHES AGAIN

What a Nebraskan Saw at the Great Centennial.

THE BIGGEST JAM ON RECORD.

'Like Sardines in a Box" Don't Express It-The West But Poorly Represented-What Train Says.

Echoes of the Celebration.

NEW YORK, May 1 .- [Special Correspondence of THE BRE. |-The great centennial has come to an end. The trades display, this afternoon, completed the programme of exercises, and the president and his party left the city. With them departed a throng which taxed all the lines of railroads to their utmost capacity. As a consequence, to-night New York is rapidly assuming its normal condition. The streets are still crowded, but there is not the horrible jam that has prevailed for the past three days.

The word "horrible" may sound too strong in this connection, but it is the only term that fits. The dispatches sent out from the city have utterly failed to give any adequate idea of the giutted condition of the principal arteries through which the life blood of New York flows. The whole municipal system pulsated, palpitated, throbbed with the transfusion of blood from the thousands of cities, towns and villages of the entire republic. But the splendid organism of the city stood the strain wonderfully. Even experts in the science of multitude-managenent marveled.

The great in-pouring of the multitude first made itself manifest on Sunday night, and from that time on until Tuesday morning there was a continuous stream of people flowing into the city. The railroads aban-doned all business except that of carrying passengers and perishable goods. Freight trains were side-tracked and switches spiked. Wrecking cars were stocked with provisions and their crews were in attendance ready to respond at a moment's notice to the call to duty. Fortunately, however, their services were not needed, for in the three days not an accident occurred on any lines leading into the city. It was after the arrival in New the city. It was after the arrival in New York that the real dangers of the centennial trip began. Such crowds, as forced their way through obstructed streets, had no pity on weaklings, and women, children and timid men could not stand before them. But in this case, Providence (in the guise of the police) helped those who did not help themselves, and in spite of the fact that women fainted and children were separated from their parents, not a fatal, or even serious accident, was re-

The phrase, "packed like sardines in a box," can give but little idea to the reader of the jam on streets on which any of the centennial exercises were held. If one could centennial exercises were held. If one could imagine a sardine box packed with live fish, and each one wiggling and squirming in a vain endeavor to extricate itself from the general crush, he might have a dim mental vision of the New York streets the past three days. But it would be very dim, for all the incidents would be lacking. The police with their clubs, the cracked heads, the fighting hackmen, the street fakir, the pure fighting backmen, the street fakir, the pure well water for a nickle a glass man, were all there and added to the colat of the occa-

The general exercises of the celebration have been fully described by telegraph, and there is but little to add. The two greatest successes of the occasion were the naval parade on Monday and the military pageant Tuesday. In comparison with these, all the other exercises were as nothing recognized, fullying. The hall and ing—seemingly failures. The ball, and there really was no ball, at least, so far as dancing was concerned, was humiliating. Everything was confusion. The various committees seemed to have entirely neglected their duties to quarrel over the Ward Mc-Allister affair. The only guests who were suitably received and cared for were Presisuitably received and cared for were President and Mrs. Harrison. The members of the cabinet and their ladies were left to "hustle" for themselves. Secretaries Windom and Rusk were disgusted with the treatment they received on arriving at the ball room, and returned immediately to the Fifth Avenue hotel in high dudgeon. This reached the ears of one of the members of the ball committee and a delegation the ball committee, and a delegation was sent to the hotel to offer apologies to the secretaries and induce them and their ladies to return to the ball-room. This scheme worked, but the honorable gentlemen received only scant courtesy on their second visit. They remained, how-ever, until the jam became a crush, and the crush was transformed into a miniature

The only other really "bad break" in the programme was the reception to President Harrison on Monday after the naval parade. When the president landed at the foot of Wall street he and his party entered car-riages to be conveyed to the Equitable building, but the other distinguished guests fol-lowed on foot. When the presidential lowed on foot. When the presidential party reached the sub-treasury building, the crowd on Wall street escaped from the con-trol of the police and flocked into the driveway, utterly demoralizing the rear of the procession and cutting it off from the president's carriage. The police made a wild rush to keep the crow! back, but the officers failed to distinguish between the common rabble and the distinguished visitors, and as a consequence two or three United States senators, many members of congress and even some of the New York aldermen were shut out from the ceremonies attending the reception. Nearly all of them, however, good-naturedly accepted the situation, though one or two aldermen made loud threats of revenge.

For once the New York newspapers had a task to perform which exceeded their abili-ties. Their reports of the centennial exercises were brilliant, extensive and interest-ing, but they lacked accuracy. For instance, all the Monday papers announced the pres-ence with the presidential party of James G. Blaine, two of them giving a graphic ac-count of the ovation which the assembled multitude gave the secretary of state. Blaine, however, was in Washington trying to recuperate, much to the regret of the imaginative reporters. The Evening Post had Governor Thayer, of Nebraska, and staff, participate in the grand military parade, but the governor was not there except, perhaps, It was a painful task to hunt for Nebraska

We have superior advantages and facilities for treating diseases, performing surgical operations, boarding and nursing patients, which, combined with our acknowledged ability, experience, responsibility and reputation, should make the Omaha Medical and Surgical Institute the first choice.

You can come direct to the Institute, day or night, as we have hotel accommodations as good and as cheap as any in the city.

We make this explanation for the benefit of persons who may feel inclined to go further east for medical or surgical treatment and do not appreciate the fact that Omaha possesses the largest and most complete Medical and Surgical Institute of the court of tute west of New York, with a capital of over $100,000.

DEFORMITIES OF THE HUMAN BODY.

Best Facilities, Apparatus and Remedies for Successful Treatment of every form of Disease requiring MEDICAL or SURGICAL TREATMENT.

In this department we are especially successful. Our claims of superiority over all others are based upon the fact that this is the only medical establishment manufacturing surgical braces and appliances for each individual case. We have three skilled instrument makers in our employ, with improved machinery, and have all the latest inventions, as well as our own patents and improvements, the result of twenty years' experience.

ELECTRICAL TREATMENT.

The treatment of diseases by electricity has undergone great changes within the past few years, and electricity is now acknowledged by all schools of medicine as the great remedy in all chronic, special and nerve diseases, for nervous debility, paralysis, rheumatism, diseases of women, etc., and in many eye and ear diseases it is the most valuable of all remedies.

In order to obtain its full virtues, it is absolutely necessary to have the proper apparatus. We have lately purchased three of the largest and most complete batteries manufactured, so constructed as to give the most gentle as well as the most powerful current. Persons treated at this Institute by electricity recognize at once the difference between our expensive and complete electrical apparatus and the common, cheap batteries, in use by many physicians. Over 3,000 dollars invested in electrical apparatus. invested in electrical apparatus.

PRIVATE, SPECIAL, NERVOUS AND BLOOD DISEASES.

We claim to be the only reliable, responsible establishment in the west making specialty of this class of diseases. Dr. McMenamy was one of the first thorough-y educated physicians to make a special study of this class of diseases, and his nethods and inventions have been adopted by specialists in Europe and America. He is the inventor of the Clamp Compress Suspensory, acknowledged the best in use. All others are copied after his invention. By means of a simple operation, painless and safe, recently brought into use, we cure many cases that have been given up as incurable by medical treatment. (Read our book to men, sent free to any

DISEASES OF THE EYE AND EAR.

We have had wonderful success in this department in the past year, and have made many improvements in our facili-ties for treatment, operations, artificial eyes, etc. We have greatly improved our facilities and methods of treating cases by correspondence, and are having better access in this department than ever before.

We are fully up to the times in all the latest inventions in medical and surgical operations, appliances and instruments. Our institution is open for investiga-tion to any persons, patients or physicians. We invite all to correspond with or visit us before taking treatment elsewhere, believing that a visit or consultation will convince any intelligent person that it is to their advantage to place themselves under our care.

Since this advertisement first appeared, many boasting pretenders and frauds have come and gone and many more will come and go, remembered only by their unfortunate and foolish victims.

"A wise man investigates first and decides afterwards,
A fool decides first, then investigates."

The Omaha Medical and Surgical Institute is indexed by the people and the press. More capital invested, more skilled physicians employed, more modern appliances, instruments and apparatus in use, more cases treated and cured, more successful surgical operations performed, than in all other medical establishments in the West combined.
